Mission Statement and Policy Principles

Mission Statement

“Love God with all your heart, with all your soul, with all your mind and with all your strength and love your neighbour as you love yourself”

(Mk 12:30-31)

St Mary's RC College exists to help parents and carers to educate young people spiritually, morally, physically and academically as well as possible.

We aim to be a truly Christian community, where our relationships are built on encouragement, concern, respect, forgiveness and reconciliation.

Our religious life is rooted in the faith, practice and moral teaching of the Roman Catholic Church.

Each person on our community is specially valued and has an important part to play in making sure that we live out our mission

Behaviour and Discipline Policy Principles

At St Mary's College we aim to create and maintain a safe and consistent learning environment, underpinned by a pastoral system which promotes the wellbeing of all students. The policy is to secure outstanding teaching and learning within an ethos which promotes outstanding behaviour, self-discipline, respect, high standards of achievement and transparent and just application. Students should be able to develop and work in an atmosphere of trust, tolerance, security and openness where positive relationships and achievements are celebrated within the school and wider community,

“The Quality of learning, teaching and behaviour in schools are inseparable issues and the responsibility of all staff. Respect has to be given in order to be received. Parents and carers, pupils and teachers all need to operate in a culture of mutual regard. The support of parents is essential for the maintenance of good behaviour.”

[Steer Report October 2005]

The school will promote good behaviour and Christian conduct by the example of its staff and by its commitment to:

- The uniqueness of the individual
- The significance of community
- The practice of forgiveness, reconciliation and therefore justice
- The belief that young people have a strong natural sense of justice and appreciate a sense of order in which there are clear parameters

Section 4

Rewards

Rewards

Merits and commendations should be awarded consistently in line with policy.

1. Departmental merits should be recorded in the merit section of the student planner KS3
2. Commendations can be awarded in the "Passport to Success" at any time and in particular during the last week of each half term by tutors and subject teachers.KS4
3. The expectation is that there will be a display of good work and commendations. Regular positive feedback will be given in weekly assemblies, especially concerning form group totals.
4. Termly prize rewards assemblies will be co-ordinated by HOY. Students will be nominated for rewards based on year group specific criteria by their form tutor.
5. Subject teachers will provide positive and constructive feedback to all students at least every 3 weeks

Merits and Commendations

In Key Stage 3, students are awarded merits by staff and collected in pupil's planners. Students record merits in their journals under subject sections and advise staff when they have achieved 10 Merits for a particular subject, extra-curricular or pastoral area.

They are given for good work, effort, commendable behaviour, tutorial work, helping at parents evenings and other extra-curricular activities and to praise and reward appropriate behaviour.

10 Merits result in the highly prized College Merit stickers. College Merits in turn lead to Bronze, Silver, Gold, Platinum and College Award Certificates accompanied by congratulatory letters. The system is highly effective and the certificates are valued by pupils and parents.

As College Merits are collected Congratulatory Letters and Certificates will be issued on the following scale:-

5 College Merits	Bronze Certificate and Letter home
10 College Merits	letter home (1/2 way to Silver Certificate)
15 College Merits	Silver Certificate and letter home
20 College Merits	letter home (1/3 way to Gold certificate)
25 College Merits	letter home (2/3 way to Gold certificate)
30 College Merits	Gold Certificate and letter home
35 College Merits	letter home (1/4 way to Platinum Certificate)
40 College Merits	letter home (1/2 way to Platinum Certificate)
45 College Merits	letter home (3/4 way to Platinum Certificate)
50 College Merits	Platinum Certificate, Voucher and letter home
100 College Merits	College Award

Tutors must notify pastoral administrators by completing a merit slip.

In Key Stage 4, students are awarded commendation stickers by tutors and subject teachers for demonstrating study skills and attitudes on the "Passport to Success" These are viewed as building blocks that will enable them to become lifelong learners. The skills and attitudes are attendance, organisation, self-discipline, teamwork, communication, reflection, determination and independence.

Students are encouraged to work towards achieving commendations and engage with staff in order for them to understand what they need to do in order to achieve a commendation for a particular study skill or attitude.

The "Passport to Success" has three levels of rewards: foundation, intermediate and advanced. Each is rewarded with a Certificate in Study Skills and Attitudes, a letter home and a tiered reward outlined in the table below. When a student has achieved any one of these milestones this is logged by the form tutor. Certificates are awarded in the "Awards Assembly" at the end of each term.

	Level 1	Level 2	Level 3
Year 9, 10 and 11	Certificate in Study Skills and Attitude (CSSA): Foundation level Letter home	Certificate in Study Skills and Attitude (CSSA): Intermediate level Letter home	Certificate in Study Skills and Attitude (CSSA): Advanced level Letter home
Year 9 & 10	Permission to go on end of year trip.	£5 off cost of end of year trip.	£10 off end of year trip
Year 11 only	£5 off cost of prom ticket	£10 off cost of prom ticket	£15 off cost of prom ticket

This is a document shared with students and parents on induction.

Staff

"In your teaching you must show integrity and high principle and use wholesome speech to which none can take exception" (Titus 2:8)

Good discipline depends on mutual respect between pupil and teacher and between pupils themselves. It makes for an orderly, happy learning environment in the classroom and throughout the school. A firm but reasonable and fair approach fosters it and it is easier to enforce if lessons are interesting, relevant and well prepared. All staff are responsible for the ethos of the school. Staff should not underestimate the effect of high expectations and of good example on the pupils.

All staff should insist on pupils being neat and tidy, well-mannered and well-behaved. Correct uniform or appropriate kit should be worn. All staff are responsible for standards of order and tidiness in the school. Staff should promote good work and helpful attitudes by approving comments, displays of work and a generally positive approach. Children should be spoken to in a courteous manner.

1. To reinforce positively the success of pupils.
2. To be punctual at all times to lessons, meetings, assembly etc.
3. To set work appropriate to the group that you are teaching.
4. To supervise the entrance of pupils into your room, and the safe dismissal of the pupils onto the corridors after the lesson.
5. To remind all pupils of the school rules and to enforce these rules at all times.
6. Never to leave a class unsupervised.
7. To ensure that sufficient appropriate work is set if you are absent.
8. To treat all pupils as individuals and deal with them on that basis.
9. To follow the Referral System when dealing with disruptive pupils.
10. To be consistent in your approach to pupils.

11.To clarify the specific rules for your classroom and inform the pupils of these rules and the consequences for breaking them.

12.To deal immediately with any pupil who misbehaves using the appropriate sanctions.

Any request to remove a pupil from the curriculum should be referred to the Assistant Headteacher/Vice Principal.

Any request to refer students for Behavioural Support should be made via the HOY after joint discussions have taken place with relevant HODs.

The objective is consistency and clarity. All staff are managers of behaviour.

Section 7

Searching and confiscation

Searching, screening and confiscation

The Department for Education published advice for headteachers, school staff and governing bodies in January 2018 in relation to schools' powers in terms of screening and searching pupils for prohibited items.

Key points are:

Searching

- School staff can search a pupil for any item if the pupil agrees. (1)
- Headteachers and staff authorised by them have a statutory power to search pupils or their possessions, without consent, where they have reasonable grounds for suspecting that the pupil may have a prohibited item. Prohibited items are:
 - knives or weapons
 - alcohol
 - illegal drugs
 - stolen items
 - tobacco and cigarette papers
 - fireworks
 - pornographic images
 - any article that the member of staff reasonably suspects has been, or is likely to be, used:
 - to commit an offence, or
 - to cause personal injury to, or damage to the property of, any person (including the pupil).
- Headteachers and authorised staff can also search for any item banned by the school rules which has been identified in the rules as an item which may be searched for.

Confiscation

- School staff can seize any prohibited item found as a result of a search. They can also seize any item, they consider harmful or detrimental to school discipline.

(1) The ability to give consent may be influenced by the child's age or other factors

Searching with consent

Schools' common law powers to search:

- School staff can search pupils with their consent for any item.

Also note:

- Schools are not required to have formal written consent from the pupil for this sort of search – it is enough for the teacher to ask the pupil to turn out his or her pockets or if the teacher can look in the pupil's bag or locker and for the pupil to agree.
- If a member of staff suspects a pupil has a banned item in his/her possession, they can instruct the pupil to turn out his or her pockets or bag and if the pupil refuses, the teacher can apply an appropriate punishment as set out in the school's behaviour policy.
- A pupil refusing to co-operate with such a search raises the same kind of issues as where a pupil refuses to stay in a detention or refuses to stop any other unacceptable behaviour when instructed by a member of staff – in such circumstances, schools can apply an appropriate disciplinary penalty.

Telling parents and dealing with complaints

- Schools are not required to inform parents before a search takes place or to seek their consent to search their child.
- There is no legal requirement to make or keep a record of a search.
- Schools should inform the individual pupil's parents or guardians where alcohol, illegal drugs or potentially harmful substances are found, though there is no legal requirement to do so.
- Complaints about screening or searching should be dealt with through the normal school complaints procedure.

Section 8

Peer on Peer Abuse

Peer on peer abuse

At St Mary's College, we believe that all children have the right to attend school and learn in a safe environment.

Children should be free from harm by adults and other children or young people.

We continue to ensure that any form of abuse or harmful behaviour is dealt with immediately and consistently to reduce the extent of harm to the child or young person.

There are many forms of abuse, which may occur between peers including:

- all forms of bullying,
- being coerced into sending sexual images (sexting),
- physical or sexual assaults,
- child sexual exploitation
- sexual harassment

These behaviours should never be tolerated, passed off as 'banter' or part of growing up.

Action will be taken to ensure that any form of abuse/harmful behaviour is dealt with immediately, consistently and sensitively to reduce the extent of harm with full consideration taken to the impact on the child's emotional, mental health and well-being.

- If a child has been harmed, is in immediate danger, or is at risk of harm, basic safeguarding principles apply and advice should be sought from either Humberside Police and/or Hull City Council Early Help and Safeguarding Hub (EHaSH).
- Incidents relating to all forms of bullying will be reported, recording and dealt with, in accordance with either the College's Anti-Bully or E-Safety policy.
- Where there is no risk of significant harm, parents of all the children concerned will be contacted and informed of the nature of the incident. If proven, appropriate sanctions, as outlined in this policy, will be applied.

Appendices

Appendix 1

Guiding principles for whole school discipline:

- Discipline within known rights, responsibilities and fair rules at school-wide and classroom level. The features of school rules should be published in a positive style, where possible, and be related to rights and consequences.
- A classroom management-discipline style based on assertion/consultation rather than confrontation. A balance between positive correction and encouragement ought to be the norm. Sarcasm, public (or private) embarrassment, shaming and ridicule, undue or persistent criticism is never appropriate or necessary to good management and discipline.
- Avoid pushing students into pointless arguments. This is especially acute in a public forum.
- A school also needs to endorse the value of positive consequences for all students. Staff can discuss and set out how students can be encouraged in social and academic behaviour through verbal encouragement and more formally recognised means.
- Separate the behaviour of the student from the student as a person. A standard conflict-resolution procedure is to attack the problem rather than the person.
- Teachers need to address student behaviour from the point of view of 'choice'. While the emotional pathology of some students is quite traumatic their behaviour is still their 'choice' – predisposed no doubt from emotionally strained home environments. Students can learn to make better choices and take responsibility for their own behaviour and should be encouraged (and supported) to 'own' the outcomes of their behaviour and seek to work on behaviour change with teacher support and encouragement. To do this they will need to know what their rights and responsibilities are. The treatment variable is the key issue; once we start saying that students with problems can't help their behaviour, we treat the student as a victim rather than an active agent who can be responsible with guidance (discipline) and support.

- A clear consensus on the nature and use of related consequences rather than mere punishment as the only tool for addressing disruptive behaviour. This will also need to encompass the use of appropriate cool-off time and time-out in conflict situations.
- It is important for teachers to invite, model and expect respect rather than merely demand it.

Guidelines for Applying Sanctions

How a sanction is applied can be important as which sanction is applied. Sanctions can be used in such a way as to help a student learn appropriate behaviour. Even the tone of voice can convey how much conviction we have about the sanction. Below are some guidelines and tips that can increase our effectiveness when using sanctions.

1. Check understanding. If you ask a child whether they agree with a course of action you have suggested, most will say "yes". Instead, ask them to tell you what it is they have agreed to do.
2. If a student seems to be "playing the audience", deal with them just outside the room.
3. Convey to a student you have high expectations of them and are disappointed when they let themselves down.
4. When a student misbehaves ask them to explain to you the rule that they are not following.
5. Emphasise to a student that it is their behaviour that is earning them the sanction. If they do not like what they are earning then they need to change how they are behaving.
6. Remind students that they are responsible for their behaviour. Sometimes they make poor choices. This is usually because they have not stopped and thought whether they were about to make a good choice or a bad choice.
7. Avoid being "hijacked" especially by older students. Keep to the issue at hand and don't get drawn into making such comments as "look at me when I'm talking to you". This will distract you from the issue at hand.
8. To stay calm, remember to delay immediate responses when you are becoming annoyed. "I'm going to take a few minutes while I decide how best to deal with that behaviour".

9. It is not the size of the sanction that always matters. For example being made to wait a few minutes until the rest of the class has left be ignominious for a student who seek peer approval.
10. Make it clear to a student that once an incident has been dealt with then as far as you are concerned it is finished. You expect normal relations to be re-established.
11. Avoid making threats and not carrying them out. This will only teach your students that they may get away with misbehaviours.
12. Maintain a professional distance with students. Over familiarity as a means of managing problem behaviour rarely works. Being supportive and caring is different from handing complete control over to a student.
13. The closer the sanction is in time to the misdemeanour the more effective is it likely to be.

Appendix 3

The Classroom Code

1. Arrive on time and take off your jacket.
2. Take out your equipment and get ready to start the lesson.
3. Stand to start the lesson with the sign of the cross.
4. Sit down in silence when invited to by the teacher.
5. Listen attentively when the teacher is speaking and when another student is contributing to the lesson.
6. Put up your hand when you want to ask a question or make a contribution to the lesson.
7. Wait until you are asked to speak.
8. Be respectful, polite and cooperative.
9. Work hard.
10. If you need help – ask.

Appendix 4a

The Yellow Card system (Behaviour 1-2-3)

- Having already received two warnings for low level disruption, a further offence (behaviour 1-2-3) will lead to a pupil being told to wait outside the classrooms, with their planner and a yellow card. The pupil will be picked up by the member of staff on the 'learning walk' and taken to the pastoral centre on the P corridor.
- SLG/Central Leader will undertake the 'learning walk' each lesson assisted by designated staff as per the rota.
- Where there are identified 'hot spots' (lessons where there have traditionally been higher numbers of yellow cards recorded), the HOD will address through support from within the department, training and curriculum amendments. The HOY will direct the Learning Mentor.
- Upon arrival in the pastoral centre, the pupil will be logged on the central sheet, issued with a lunchtime detention sticker and provided with relevant curriculum focused learning until the end of the lesson. A hierarchy of support and sanctions (see Appendix 4 'Yellow Card Intervention Levels') follows when further yellow cards are received by the same pupil. This includes being placed on report, internal reflection or internal fixed term exclusion, meetings with Parents (HOY/HOD). Pupils will remain in the Pastoral Centre for the duration of the lesson from which they were 'yellow carded', supervised by Behaviour Learning mentor assisted by behaviour assistants. The Pastoral centre will be monitored by the Pastoral Assistant Head teacher on a daily basis to ensure consistency and continuation of learning.

Failure to attend a detention results in a 'second chance' detention the following day. If the second chance detention is not attended, parental contact, an internal exclusion in the first instance and possibly fixed term exclusion may be implemented.

Appendix 4a (2)

Yellow Cards.

A pupil who receives three warnings in one lesson is given a yellow card.

The pupil is asked to stand outside the classroom, with their planner and the yellow card.

Where possible classroom teachers should press their SIMS alert button or if not possible email staff on the main school reception to alert the member of staff on learning walk. They should email Astrid English or Clare Craft. Alternatively, main reception can be contacted by ringing 1000.

The pupil is picked up by the member of staff on learning walk and taken to the pastoral centre.

They are issued with a sticker for their planner which states:

- That the pupil has received three warnings.
- The date of the detention.

If they attend the pastoral centre without their planner a letter is provided with the above details.

The pupils' HoY, Learning Mentor and tutor are notified by email. In addition to the relevant HoD.

The pupil will stay in the PC for the remainder of that lesson; they will then attend their next lesson.

If the pupil is not picked up by the end of the lesson, staff must email the relevant details to the "Pastoral Team" for the yellow card to be processed.

The pupil will attend their detention the following lunchtime from 12.45pm to 1.25pm.

If they fail to attend this detention for any reason, they are given a second chance the following lunchtime.

If they fail to attend for a second time, they spend the following morning and lunchtime in the Pastoral centre.

If failure to attend becomes a regular occurrence or is deemed to be defiance, then the HoY is informed. They will put sanctions in place and will notify parents. In some cases, parents are called in to a meeting to discuss concerns.

Appendix 4b

Pastoral Incident

A Pastoral Incident is behaviour that is deemed to be beyond a yellow card, this may include:

- Direct /confrontational challenge to a teacher.
- Arguing about or refusing to accept a yellow card.
- Dangerous behaviour/fighting/assault.
- Use of racist, homophobic, bi-phobic and transphobic language.
- Aggressive behaviour.
- Bullying.

If a teacher deems that behaviour is beyond a yellow card, they must issue a pupil who has not been involved in the incident with a green card and send them to reception to alert the colleague on learning walk. They must stand the pupil outside the classroom as they would a pupil who had received a yellow card. The colleague on learning walk will then escort the pupil to the pastoral centre where they will be clerked in. They will remain in the pastoral centre pending further investigation by a senior colleague.

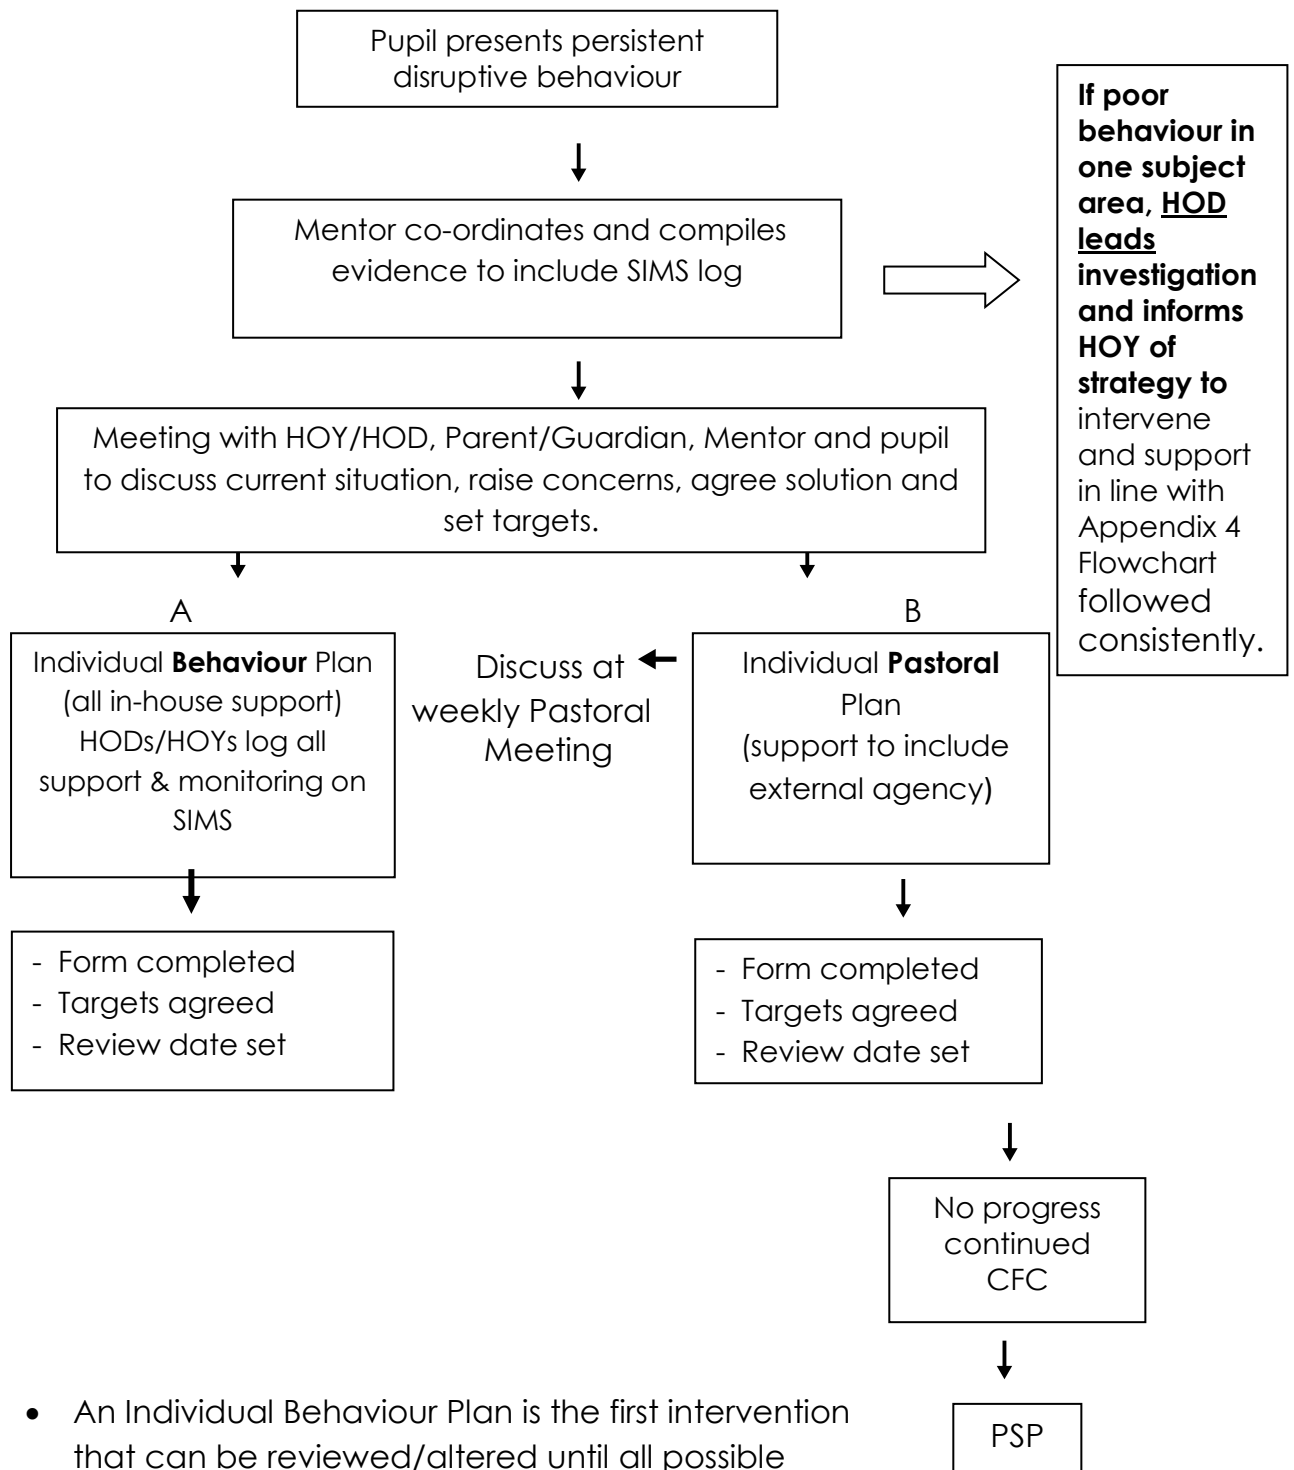

A senior colleague will decide if the incident was indeed a pastoral incident.

In the event of any medical or behavioural safety emergency in a classroom the Deputy or senior staff should be summoned immediately via reception or the SIMS alert.

Unacceptable behaviour outside of the classroom should be dealt with by HOY. The pastoral centre may be used as authorised by a Deputy Head or Pastoral Assistant Head teacher to supervise pupils pending further investigation.

Managing and Monitoring Behaviour on School Buses

Pupils' safety and wellbeing matters at all times including their journey to and from school. As school buses are not staffed by adults there is the possibility that pupils may feel worried or more vulnerable at this time of the day. As a result of this it is important to have systems and procedures in place to monitor the school buses in order to safeguard the welfare of pupils during these times.

The school will:

- Have a named member of the SLG (supported by school admin) responsible for overseeing pupil safety and wellbeing on school buses.
- Make regular contact with the named service provider in order to build mutual understanding and a strong working relationship.
- Regularly check the inside of the buses.
- Ensure a member of staff is appointed to be on duty at the start and end of each day to ensure pupils can report any concerns.
- Liaise with the service provider and Local Authority to ensure that any concerns are addressed promptly.
- Advertise, interview and appoint 6th form bus monitors to ensure daily monitoring of the bus environment and conduct of pupils.
- Have a staged intervention approach to challenge pupils whose behaviour may put themselves, other pupils, the driver and the public (including other road users) at risk of harm.

Staged approach to intervention for poor behaviour on school buses

When the school receives a report of poor behaviour on a school bus from the bus monitor, the driver or a member of the public it will investigate and take statements. When the pupils have been identified the following staged intervention will take place for:

1. Verbal warning by HOY/SLG & sticker in planner to inform home.
2. Phone call to home and written notification. (Appendix 8B)
3. Written warning (See below) and school report to bus company/LA.

The local authority and SLG will make a final decision regarding removing a pupils' bus pass.

All stages of the bus warnings are logged on SIMS by the Behaviour Mentor in the pastoral centre.

The role of the bus monitor is to support St Mary's College and the bus company in safeguarding pupils during the journey to and from school. You have been chosen for this important role as ambassadors of the school and are expected, at all times, to model high levels of conduct and respect as described in our school mission statement.

You are not responsible for administering sanctions to any pupil who displays dangerous or disrespectful behaviour. You are responsible for reporting any such incidents to the bus driver and to Dr Wild & Miss Booth. School bus monitors will receive training in the first half term of the school year.

A bus monitor should be vigilant and help the driver to ensure:

- When travelling on a school bus, all pupils are seated at all times unless the bus is stationary and they are embarking/disembarking.
- Pupils are not making excessive noise which could distract the driver.
- Pupils all take responsibility for ensuring the environment remains healthy and free from cigarette smoke and other air pollutants such as deodorant spray.
- No pupils' actions put themselves, their peers or other members of the public in danger.
- All pupils feel safe and free from prejudice or harassment as set out in the school Anti Bullying Policy (Page 6 pupil planner)

School bus monitors should:

- not put themselves in any danger.
- assist in the application of the school bus behaviour code.
- report any incidents which occur on the school bus to the driver and to Miss Buck in the main school office. Email Dr Wild & Miss Booth from a mobile phone if possible.

School bus monitors can have their free passes revoked if:

- the sixth former is proven to have broken the school bus behaviour code.
- an incident occurs on the bus the monitor is travelling on and they fail to report it.

I have read and understand my role and responsibilities as a school bus monitor.

Guidelines for Applying Rewards

Some people question why we should reward behaviour that we expect from all children "If I reward one child for staying in the seat, shouldn't I reward them all?" For many children we need to produce a differentiated behavioural curriculum. We can no longer assume that all children enter school with the same basic social skills that we are used to. They may need to be taught the skills of sharing, turn taking, listening, cooperating etc., but they, just as their peers who face physical or sensory challenges, have the same right to be supported and included.

1. Praise and rewards are the best ways of highlighting appropriate behaviour to both young children and adolescents "catch them being good and reward them."
2. Rewards are only rewarding if students are motivated to work for them. Use a variety of different rewards. Have some surprises.
3. Involve students in deciding the goals they wish to achieve and the kinds of rewards they would like to have.
4. Remember rewards are not bribes. A bribe is something given to induce someone to act illegally or immorally.
5. Give lots of small rewards to a student who is just learning a new skill.
6. There are many different kinds of rewards
 - Token rewards such as stickers that can be converted into something else.
 - Social reward such as praise and approval
 - Intrinsic rewards are the feeling of success and pride that a student experiences

Work with the rewards that a child enjoys having, while pairing them with the rewards at the next level. "Here's a sticker for that piece of work, I am so impressed with the effort you put into it".

The blind and inappropriate use of rewards can have a negative impact on how children learn the intrinsic satisfaction of learning.
